HOTCHOC - HEATED FOOD SPRAY GUN

A 'must have' tool for any professional chocolatier, artisan and pastry chef.

Mallard Ferriere Spray Booth

MF-36230

Size: 65cm x 60cm x H 55cm

Price: £104.47 +VAT

The Krebs 'HOTCHOC' is heated and insulated spray gun that constantly keeps pre-heated chocolate (or cocoa butter) warm while spraying.

No need to reheat the container every few minutes! No rush to spray! No more worries about clogging nozzles and awkward nozzle-reheating with a hot air blower! These times are over.

The special heating unit encasing the KREBS gun nozzle keeps the chocolate warm. The 'HOTCHOC' is also equipped with a metal suction tube that further transmits the chocolate's heat, and the external insulated container cover avoids the rapid cooling of the chocolate.

No need for compressed air – the 'HOTCHOC' is 'plug & play' – simple, reliable and easy to use! The 'HOTCHOC' has also been configured specifically to be powerful enough to deliver 50/50 mixture with a nice coat, whilst minimising the typical overspray issue experienced with air guns.

TECNOMAC BLAST CHILLERS & FREEZERS

Blast Chilling

Tecnomac blast chillers enable the lowering of the temperature of freshly-cooked foods down to +3°C at the core. The speed of this process is essential: it allows to reduce the bacterial proliferation, that is particularly critical while food is at temperatures between +65°C and +10°C.

Blast Freezing

Tecnomac blast freezers, thanks to their powerful refrigeration systems with air temperature at -40°C, quickly lower the temperature at the core of foods down to -18°C, thus avoiding the macrocrystallisation and granting perfect, long lasting preservation of all the original qualities of foods.

Who are Tecnomac

For over 40 years Tecnomac, a division of Castel MAC SpA, has been researching, manufacturing and selling, all over the world, foodservice equipment and machines for bakery, pastry and ice-cream production. The company is now owned by the Ali Group which includes Carpigiani and Hiber.

TECHNIQUES AND INSTRUCTIONS

CHOCOFLEX

You just pour the filling into the holes which are present on the surface of the mould (with the aid of a spatula when making the harder ganaches) and then put them in the refrigerator to stabilise and harden the product.

The “turning out” of the product is immediate thanks to the flexibility and elasticity guaranteed by the silicone. For the final chocolate-coating it’s enough to dip the spheres manually in softened chocolate and then in cocoa.

MAGNETIC MOULDS

THERMOFORMED CAKE MOULDS

Pour the compound into the thermoformed cake mould, paying attention to let it uniformly penetrate.

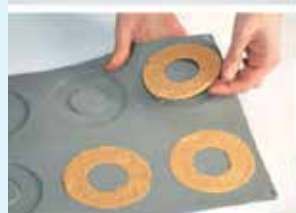

Insert biscuit disk in the centre. Put it in the blast chiller until totally frozen.

Put the filled frozen mould into a pan, full of water at room temperature for some minutes.

Gently demould, reversing the filled mould.

GOURMAND MOULDS

Place the moulds on a flat baking tray. For short moulds slightly humidify the tray for added grip and for eliminating any air bubbles. The moulds can be easily cut so as to obtain portion moulds, that are easier to handle and useful for the most fragile preparations. Fill the moulds with the mixture, assembled masses, creams, mousses, sauces, jellies, etc. Roll out the dough with a spatula, cook, or put in blast chiller or let the mixture cool. Unmould the product obtained by a slight pressure or flip the mould on a surface and eliminate the mould from one corner
